FELDER MAKES FIRST SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN

Launches His Candidacy for U. S. Senate in the County in Which He Was Raised.

Perry, Ga., May 9.—(Special).—Hon. Thomas S. Felder, of Macon, opened his candidacy for the unexpired term of the late United States Senator Bacon, in an address here today to a large audience of Houston county voters. Mr. Felder was raised in this county and his remarks were given cordial reception by the people of his former home county.

Mr. Felder opened his speech by declaring that he was going to conduct his campaign on the basis of going out and meeting the people face to face and not by flooding the columns of the press with advertising matter as his opponents were doing.

He declared that if elected to the United States senate he would first of all insist upon justice for the south, declaring that laws which are a benefit to other states are frequently harmful to the south. He declared that he was against a protective tariff and was in favor of a still further reduction in tariff rates.

He favors national aid for the construction and maintenance of public post roads, and thinks that congress should amend the income laws so that they will be more plain in their meaning. Mr. Felder announced that he was against life tenure for federal judges, declaring six, eight or ten years terms better in his estimation. He also pledged himself to introduce a bill to the effect of abolishing the office of justice of the peace. CRUSHED WIFE'S SKULL AND KILLED HIMSELF

Coalgate, Okla., May 9.—After it is alleged, crushing his wife's skull with a hatchet, Arthur McKinley, who returned to his home here yesterday on a furlough from the state penitentiary to attend the funeral of his sister, last night fired a charge from a shotgun into his own head. The woman is dead and McKinley is probably fatally wounded. McKinley had been in the state penitentiary for several years for a divorce when her husband was convicted of having committed adultery with her and sentenced to six years in prison.

BIG FRAUD CHARGED IN CUBAN LOTTERY

Havana, May 9.—A sensation was created in the house of representatives yesterday evening when Representative Satorio announced that a big fraud was being perpetrated with lottery tickets by the printing of a series of one genuine for the Cuban government and the other spurious for sale. Senator Satorio said the persons sending abroad the spurious tickets were reaping a profit of $70,000 a month from their sale. The director of the lottery in a statement last night said the report that two sets of tickets had been printed drew out of the fact that there was an error on the backs of some of the tickets and that these had been recalled and duplicates issued for them. The director declared no illegal tickets were being issued.

ALBANY GUARDS MAY LOSE RIFLE RANGE

Albany, Ga., May 9.—(Special).—The Albany Guards, who have been in the rifle range because wild bullets were fired from the range, just opened up a distance of two and a half miles from the city limits. The Albany Guards are making strenuous efforts to prevent that disaster.

For disaster they say it would be to the city. In 1912 the Guards won third honors in rifle shooting at the national guard of Georgia. Last year, by hard work, they won the title, winning second honors. The guards, who are made up of a few town boys, were advised by the city to move out of the city limits. They are advised to move out of the city limits. They are advised to move out of the city limits.

BROOKS SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS AT ALBANY

Albany, Ga., May 9.—(Special).—Robert E. Brooks, for several years superintendent of schools at Dublin, and one of the best known educators in the state, has been chosen superintendent of the Albany public schools. His successor at Dublin was not a candidate for re-election.

Brooks was selected from a list of twenty-seven applicants for the place, the city school board having had the big list of applicants in the hands of a subcommittee for a week. Under the circumstances, the selection of the Dublin man was a splendid compliment to him.

Buckhead Commencement.

Buckhead, Ga., May 9.—(Special).—The graduation exercises of the local high school will be held in the Methodist church on the night of May 10. The commencement sermon will be preached on the 24th at the Baptist church by Rev. J. G. Logan, of the First Methodist church, Covington.

Fires at Tifton.

Tifton, Ga., May 9.—(Special).—The home of Mr. W. C. Sperrin on Park avenue was burned this morning at 4:20. The fire was discovered in time for the family to escape and nearly all of the furniture was saved. Mr. Sperrin carried $2,000 insurance on his house, which was worth about $2,000, and $1,000 on his furniture, which will cover his loss. This is the third home burned in Tifton within the week. W. M. Wall lost his home Sunday night and W. C. Logan's home was burned Wednesday night.

COLLEGE PARK-IDEAL HOME CENTER

WHERE COLLEGE PARK WORSHIPS—FIVE OF HER PRETTY CHURCHES

This Little City Has Been Designated as the "Leading Suburb" of Atlanta.

BEAUTIFUL, HEALTHFUL, GOOD SCHOOLS, CHURCHES

College Park is pre-eminently a "home" city. It has all the features that the right kind of a home requires. It combines in a way peculiarly attractive the essential and the desired comforts and advantages.

The situation of College Park is really beautiful and beautiful. Built upon a high ridge—the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains—it commands magnificent views of the surrounding country. Stone Mountain, some twenty miles distant, is plainly seen from many points. College Park is 10 feet higher than Atlanta—and Atlanta is the second highest city of over 100,000 population in the United States.

College Park is only seven miles from Atlanta, and is easily accessible by train or trolley. The trolley service is very satisfactory—ten-minute schedule. F-cent fare, 35-minute ride. A great many College Park folks go into Atlanta every day to business.

RAILROADS

College Park is on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, which connects directly with all the main lines north and west. You can get into the Pullman at the College Park station and never budge from it until you get to New York or New Orleans. This is of particular convenience and advantage to the students of Cox College and the Georgia Military Academy. It is so much handier than having to change cars, recheck baggage, and so on. At present College Park is the terminus of the Atlanta-Fairburn interurban line. This will, a bit later, extend on into Atlanta, thus giving College Park additional transportation facilities.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

All the comforts and conveniences of a big city are already in use in College Park or are being put in rapidly. The streets are broad and beautifully shaded, some already cherted, others now being graded and paved and the sidewalks put down.

The water supply of College Park comes from an immense artesian well 32 feet deep. The water comes 400 feet through solid granite. Chemical analysis shows it to be as pure and fine as any in Georgia. Elsewhere on this page is shown the water tower and power plant. The water, light (electricity) and sewer systems are all municipally owned and operated.

A franchise is now pending before the city council for the installation of a gas plant for College Park. As soon as this is granted work of construction will be begun and pushed rapidly. Within the next few months College Park will be cooking, heating and lighting with gas.

College Park is right on the job when it comes to business. She has strong, progressive concerns in every line of commercial activity, and is making good money for the stockholders. She has her own bank and newspaper.

The Bank of College Park is a strong institution, owning the block in which they are located. As is also the postoffice. The officers of this bank are J. H. Longino, president; W. S. Cox, vice president; G. T. Longino, cashier.

CHURCHES

Five denominations have churches in College Park—Methodist, Baptist, Methodist.

Episcopal.

Baptist.

Presbyterian.

Christian.

Presbyterian, Episcopalian and Christian. These are all in flourishing condition, occupying comfortable, artistic buildings and doing much good in the town.

COLLEGE PARK SOON TO HAVE PLAYGROUND

The city fathers of College Park are wide awake to the growing necessity of parks and playgrounds. Although practically every residence in the city has its own beautiful lawn and large yard, yet the council realizes that in days to come, when College Park reaches the age and size of some of her sister cities, a public playground and park will be a necessity. Prompted by a desire to properly prepare for this day, the council is now considering the purchase of an entire block near the center of the city, which will be made into a beautiful park and playground. Just when the deal will be consummated is not yet determined, but it is a foregone conclusion that at no very distant day College Park will have one of the prettiest playgrounds for her children of any of Georgia's smaller cities.

The council recently granted a request from the ladies of the town, and has joined with the Woman's club, to make a temporary park of a small tract of ground near the depot, and this will be fitted out with swings, benches, etc., and otherwise made attractive.

FIGURES SHOW GROWTH OF COLLEGE PARK

That College Park is growing rapidly is an undisputed fact—the census figures show that. In 1900 the population was only 450, in 1910 it increased to 2,176 and in 1913 was 2,700, and continues to grow. Every month sees new people coming to College Park, buying homes, going into business, making money. It is a thoroughly delightful place to live, and the people are charming. Really values in College Park are reasonable. You can own just as elaborate or as modest a home as you like. If you want to invest in real estate, you'll find College Park dirt is a sure winner. The values are not inflated—you may not make a million in a minute. But it's sure. You won't lose.

LONGINO BUSINESS BLOCK, COLLEGE PARK.

In this block is located the Bank of College Park, the post office and other large retail stores.

Views of College Park shown here are: Her new public school, Main street leading into city, depot and park, and her city water tower and lighting plant.

A City Absolutely Free From Smoke of Manufacturing Plants.

A LIVE CITY COUNCIL AND BOARD OF TRADE

CITY OFFICERS AND COUNCIL OF COLLEGE PARK
The high degree of municipal efficiency reached at College Park has been achieved by the following wide-awake officers:
Byron S. Hite, mayor.
E. O. Williams, city clerk.
R. A. Wright, treasurer.
Councilmen—E. Z. Adams, Thomas M. Kener, F. D. Cooper, Raynard Williamson, Edward J. Walker, J. A. Sewell.

There are no factories in College Park. It is essentially a residence suburb and is clean and fresh and airy. No factories are allowed within the corporate limits of the town.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES
When it comes to educational facilities, College Park takes her place in the front rank of southern cities. Her fame as an educational center has long since gone abroad, and her colleges are among the leading institutions of learning in the south.

Cox College and Conservatory for girls and young women offers all advantages of high standard college work and exceptionally fine musical study.

The Georgia Military Academy for boys provides for the best physical and military training in addition to the excellent literary courses.

College Park is justly proud of her public school system. There are two grammar schools for children and a splendid high school for older boys and girls. The new high school building has just been completed at a cost of $12,000, and is a source of great pride to the citizens.

LIVE BOARD OF TRADE FOR COLLEGE PARK

College Park's advantages and facilities are being strongly boosted and speedily advertised by the board of trade. This organization comprises most of the prominent representative men of the town and is doing excellent work for the good of the city and the citizens. They are alert, aggressive workers and are achieving notable results in the upbuilding of College Park.

FIRST TO ENGAGE IN REAL ESTATE IN COLLEGE PARK

One of the first men to locate in College Park, when the town began its existence twenty-one years ago, was I. C. McCrory.

He began his work there handling real estate, and it is said there is hardly a piece of ground in or around College Park that he has not handled in some way since the beginning of this little suburb.

Mr. McCrory deals not only in College Park real estate, but handles large and small acreage, and has put through a number of deals involving large tracts of farm lands throughout the south.

He also does a loaning business and handles fire insurance. Mr. McCrory is one of the substantial citizens of the town, and takes a keen interest in all things that mean the growth and betterment of his section.

No Parent Has the Right to do Any Guessing About the Selection of a School For His Boy.

There's Too Much at Stake

It isn't merely a matter of what the boy may learn at school, or how, or how much. It is teaching the vastly more important things in life that is the unwavering end toward which this school aims.

Truth, Right, Self Control, Obedience to Constituted Authority and Patriotism.

The GEORGIA MILITARY ACADEMY is the most splendidly equipped boy's school in the South. Not only is your boy taught by competent teachers, but his associates are clean boys and his home life one of comfort.

Classed A by the U. S. Government and designated one of the six Honor Schools of America. Military Department under active Army officer.

GLASSLESS MONOCLES WORN BY SHRINERS

Monocles promise to be one of the most popular features of the Shriner's convention. They are called "Shriner's monoculars," and instead of being attached to the nose by a regulation black ribbon, are moved with a broad band of material, which is attached to the ear by an ornamental slide, bearing the Shriner insignia.

Monocles, on the other hand, not only have no deleterious effects upon the eyes, but in many cases are of great assistance in the case of nearsightedness. FOUR-CYLINDER MODEL MARKETED AT $1,665

Cole Motor Car Company
Makes a Most Interesting
Announcement.

Standardization has struck its most effective blow in the automobile industry, as evidenced by a statement from the Cole Motor Car company, Indianapolis, Ind., that they are announcing a quality four-cylinder model at a price heretofore believed to have been impossible. The statement issued by President J. J. Cole says: "After mature deliberation and experimentation, the Cole Motor Car company will market a four-cylinder standard, Cole car, priced at $1,665, f. o. b. Indianapolis. This car has been improved in many respects over the Cole six-cylinder model; but the ten-four, as the new model is called, will in no way be inferior in quality to the Series Nine Four. The standard parts on the Cole Standardization Roll of Honor will be found in the new four-cylinder Cole car. Lightened 300 Pounds.

This statement from the office of Mr. Cole, which has been received by C. R. Turner, of the Cole Motor company of Georgia, the local Cole representative, is supplemented by another important statement from the office of Chief Engineer Charles S. Crawford of the Cole Motor Car company as follows: "Without attracting any of the vital parts of the Cole four-cylinder car this department has been able to lighten the model ten-four Cole over 300 pounds. In our taste over give and take roads the new model, with the Stewart-Warner vacuum gasoline fuel developed extraordinary fuel economy. I am prepared to say that the average automobile owner should be able to get the same mileage on the gallon of gasoline on the new model as he gets on the old." In connection with these two statements, Mr. Cole has received here about the new Cole model it is said that the Cole people have thoroughly proven their standardization theory and that the manufacturing industry on the verge of being revolutionized by standardization.

Mr. Cole contended that standardization would mean quality and bring price down. He is a thorough believer in the fact that the most important thing in the purchasing of automobiles has been the one question: "When will the price of automobiles come down?" In the announcement just made even Mr. Cole's colleagues give him credit for the starting of this important angle in the automobile business.

"A manufacturer a good product, embodying the highest quality of motor car while, to sell at a conservative price, has been the aim of the Cole automobile manufacturer in the new ten-four Cole the same Northwest unit power, Ray Maro radiator, Spicer universal joints, Timken press steel frame, Detroit steel production, electric lighting, starting and ignition, and a host of other improvements, including Janney-Stetson gasoline tank, Firestone tires, and a host of other improvements and Panhard top is used.

In addition the car is the first to adopt the Stewart-Warner gasoline vacuum control, described as a radically new type of gasoline vacuum control, and efficiency. The new four-cylinder Cole car is the first to have a gravity gasoline system. The Cole ten-four has been lengthened four inches, the car and double-bull front lights have been removed. The new car is fully equipped with the dynamo law which is becoming generally effective all over the country. The new car is painted a beautiful dark rich Brewster green. Not one of the single components of the new four-cylinder has sold for several hundred dollars more than the old model. In fact, they have been improved in the new Cole model.

MOTZ CUSHION TIRES
FOLLOWING THE FLAG

"That Motz tires 'follow the flag' was shown recently in the closing of the contract by the Motz Tire and Rubber company of Akron, for the distribution of its product in the Orient. Unable to obtain pneumatic tires which could withstand the wear and constructed by the government, the company equipped its cars with Motz high efficiency cushion tires.

They proved so successful, many inquiries for these tires were received with the result the Seachrach company hastened to obtain the sale of them in our far-eastern possessions.

DEMAND FOR THE INDIAN
RUNS STRONG THIS YEAR

The most valuable carload shipment of motorcycles, ever made, left the shops of the Hendon Manufacturing company at Springfield, Mass., last week, bound for the Orient. The order consisted of 47 Hendon special model cars of construction over military road, the highest valued company of Hendon motorcycles. The Indian high-speed models is a further indication of this shipment.

LOZIER COMMON STOCK
TAKES SKYWARD JUMP

The following statement appears in the April 9 issue of The Detroit Free Press: "Detroit brokers are commenting on the spectacular advance in quotations on common stock of the Lozier Motor company, which have practically doubled in less than a year. On March 24 the old price was 14 1/2. On Wednesday, April 8, it was 28 1/2. With 30 asked, and sales were reported with practically no limit. The Lozier Motor company is turning out as its 1914 model.

Since the first of the year D. H. and E. W. Verrill have been harvesting spruce gum in the forests near Hangerly, Me., and returned recently to Wilton, N. H., with 1,500 pounds which they brought out in a two-horse wagon.

WORLD RECORD HOLDER WILL DRIVE MAXWELL

Famous Foreign Car Driver
Agrees to Shift His Alliance.

"Terrible Teddy" Tetaf, the idol of the Pacific coast, and present world's record champion, is to drive a Maxwell. The famous foreign car driver has agreed to shift his allegiance to an American car.

The last cars which Teddy has driven were the Fiat and the Isotta. Tetaf is best known as the winner of two Santa Monica races, in one of which he lowered the world's record by driving the distance at an average of 75.50 miles per hour, a record which stands today after many onslaughts.

This practically completes the personnel of the Maxwell team, which now has two Californians at the wheel, Tetaf and Carlson.

Tetaf is expected to reach Indianapolis the early part of the coming week, and will go to Detroit to start practice on the course. Ray Barrow has advised his associate, in A. Scores, that the first Maxwell will be ready this week, and that Carlson will first to sign his team contract.

Both of the drivers have been engaged leaving but one other driver to be signed, and as Moros is in touch with both Henry and Nazario by cable and with Hughes and other American pilots, the indications are that all three cars will be working out their respective pilots within the next few days.

The Maxwell will enter three cars, and will not have one entered in the name of an individual. Carl G. Fisher, president of the Speedway, has advised Moros that this method of entering cars will not avail in holding car teams in the race. In event of having more than thirty entrants, Mr. Fisher explained that the thirty fast est cars would be the starters. Inasmuch as Barrow in his contract with the Maxwell company has agreed that his cars shall show a speed for a lap of 137 and as this is faster than any car driver covered the distance officially, at least will not be forced to lose one of their cars through failure to qualify.

INCREASED EFFICIENCY BY THE FORD SYSTEM

Other Manufacturers in Detroit Prepare to Follow Suit.

Manufacturers and the public are beginning to realize that the "new dollars a day" idea of Henry Ford does not mean that a carmaker's art in making seeking to distribute surplus millions. It is philanthropy to be sure to put within the grasp of workers higher wages and more comfort in life, but beneath it all Ford has worked out a revolution in efficiency according to John C. Wetmore, dean of automobile writers, who recently visited the Ford plant on a tour of inspection.

"He has built up for himself an army of well paid, well cared for, healthy, contented workers," continued Mr. Wetmore, "who are able to produce and secure energy or the loss of a million dollars annually in his line of business would be even more than ten million dollars' worth of efficiency."

"Other Detroit factories are beginning to follow his lead through the adoption of the piece work system. In one instance it was found that men formerly earning $3 per day, are now earning $4 and are actually producing three times as much as they did under the $3 a day wage system."

"Henry Ford's fame in history will be rather as the founder of a new efficiency system based on greater earnings opportunity than as a great inventor and manufacturer. Things have now settled down at the Ford factory to a smooth routine under the new system."

Moone Smashed Records On Trip Through Alabama, And This Is Reason Why

Luke P. Moone, local Thor motorcycle rider, just left for Birmingham in his machine, and in order that Atlanta and Shrine week in particular should be properly advertised. Potentate Forrest Adair furnished Moone with enough nice bright red Shurtz pennants, etc., to almost cover his machine.

Everything went well until nearly in Birmingham, when he passed two young fellows driving a herd of cattle. The bulls were a little peculiar anyway, and possibly don't like Shurtz, as they made a combined assault, charging all along the line, and Moone reports that he made the first mile in nothing flat. The telephone poles looked like a picket fence. No matter what the Alabama speed limit is, it was broken.

Moone, at the age of 14, had the distinction of never having been photographed. He had a great aversion to photographs and successfully evaded a camera all his life.

There's an Indian MOTORCYCLE For All Sorts and Conditions of Men NO MATTER WHERE, WHEN or HOW

A Price only made possible by a large output

100,000 Indian Motorcycles is the capacity of the Hendee Plants. That is why we can offer to you this wonderful value at so low a price. It has been our aim for years to reach this point, where every man can possess an Indian. Just think of it, a BIG, POWERFUL, SPEEDY, TWIN CYLINDER INDIAN MOTORCYCLE, with every up-to-date feature, for $225.00.

Mr. George M. Hendee, founder of the Hendee Manufacturing Company, said 12 years ago: "When I can produce motorcycles of the highest quality and sell them at a price within the reach of every man, then men will be able to recognize their marvelous possibilities and wonderful value for either business or pleasure."

Perseverance on his part has been crowned with success. The objective point has been reached. The great faculty of surrounding himself with a loyal, enthused organization, paying the mechanics and all the classes of labor the highest wage scale paid in New England, has now made it a fact, to produce the highest grade and most efficient motorcycle in the world to sell at a price to fit the purse of every man.

This Liberal Policy and perseverance has built up a business with $12,500,000 invested in plants and machinery covering 11½ acres, with a capacity of 100,000 Indian Motorcycles. The Hendee Manufacturing Company today is the largest motorcycle manufactory in the world.

Just Think what it means to you when you purchase an Indian Motorcycle, to have embodied in it the skill of men who have been with us for 14 years, loyal, brainy men, who, step by step, year by year, improved and perfected the Indian.

That is Why the Indian is the leader in all things. Why the markets of Europe and Asia buy more Indians than all other makes combined. They put the acid test to everything they purchase, and the Indian stands the test of the world's critics.

When We Announced the Price others said it was impossible for us to survive and give this marvelous value for so low a price. We will admit that once we were compelled to sell this Indian for $100.00 more than we are now asking. This was due to the small production which held the manufacturing up to a high cost.

The Enormous Demand for Indian Motorcycles throughout the entire world is the great factor which makes this extremely low price possible. It was the guarantee to us for building large plants and preparing for a large output, so that every man could purchase an Indian at this extremely low price.

Hundreds of Dollars Saved, Mr. Business Man, through the use of the Indian Motorcycle in your business. Note, as you step from your office, the vast numbers of them on the street. These are not all pleasure seekers. The majority are men employed by wise business men obtaining that which you seek. Collection of money, or more business.

Think It Over. Perhaps you would like to employ another SALESMAN, CANVASSER or COLLECTOR, and the problem still has its doubts. Wipe out the doubt with an Indian. One man can accomplish the work of three men.

It is Cheaper Than Walking, or carfare. An Indian is always ready for service, day or night. It rides like a Pullman car, made so by those leaf springs, upon which the rider and entire motorcycle is cradled.

The Indian Cradle Spring Frame is the greatest achievement for comfort in motorcycle construction since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

There is But One comfortable riding motorcycle in the world. That is the Indian. Its entire mechanism and speed governed merely by a twist of the wrist. It has a clutch that works with the smoothness of velvet; power and speed to negotiate any roads on hill or mountain, under any conditions.

Doctors and Ministers use Indian Motorcycles because of their ease of control, lack of vibration and cleanliness; because it aids them to greater accomplishments in the day.

Men at Home and Abroad who have used other makes have disposed of them for the Indian after one ride on that Indian Cradle Spring Frame.

Mr. Farmer, here is your opportunity to obtain the very thing that will keep that boy of yours on the farm. Once you have an Indian Motorcycle, you will wonder how it was ever possible to be without the use of one for performing the many errands about the farm and to town.

Health Seekers, there is long life for you in the use of an Indian Motorcycle. It takes you out into the great out-of-doors, into the sunshine where you can breathe that life-giving fresh air.

Pleasure Seekers, make every day a vacation day, from May until December. An Indian Motorcycle will give you more pleasure in one hour than you could obtain in a day in any other manner.

The Only Difference between our $225.00 model and our higher priced Indians is that the more expensive are equipped with electric lights, electric signal and a Corbin-Brown speedometer; or a two-speed equipment; or the wonderful electric starter model.

Send Today for our catalog. Get acquainted with the many opportunities you are missing by not owning an Indian. ASK ABOUT OUR LIBERAL GUARANTEE.

2,700 Indian Dealers and 10 BRANCH HOUSES scattered throughout the country, ready to give you immediate service and fill your orders. Step into a dealer's store and ask for a demonstration. Be convinced, like the vast thousands of Indian riders have. GET YOUR ORDER IN NOW. If you cannot afford all cash, ask the dealer about easy terms.

Mr. Merchant, Mr. Auto Dealer, if there is not an Indian dealer in your town, GET BUSY and communicate with us for our dealer's proposition.

This Indian, this Price, this National Advertising Campaign is acting like an alarm clock, awakening the public to the wonderful possibilities of the Indian. Thousands who have never before ridden a motorcycle, will do so this year. We are swamped with inquiries from prospective purchasers.

Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the United Mine Workers of America.
For several years, the trouble has been simmering. During the past few months it has reached an especially murderous climax. Many more lives have been lost than in our invasion of Mexico. Operators and miners alike have defied the state's authority. Federal troops are now in Colorado for the purpose of maintaining order and striving to redeem the commonwealth from anarchy.

For the information of its readers, The Constitution republishes elsewhere on this page the statements of both sides, as appearing in The New York Independent.
These statements are, of course, wholly partisan and ex parte. The reader will, therefore, take them for their surface value.

The Independent says: "In the fundamental issues of the struggle the mine operators (the Rockefeller) are clearly in the wrong. When they declare there is any point in the dispute which they refuse to submit to arbitration, they forfeit their right to the support and sympathy of enlightened public opinion."

The Independent's position is impracticable. Neither side can logically afford to contend that in a matter of this life-and-death gravity, which has already cost so many lives, there is a single issue not open to arbitration. That one admission damages the whole case of the operators.

But it has reached the stage where it is immaterial whether the obstacle of the workers or the operators is the core of the trouble.

The thing that does count is that extending over long periods, the rights of the miners and the rights of the operators have been denied, and at some places in Colorado, brought to almost total paralysis.

These conditions would be indefensible if they were confined to the state in which they are transpiring.

But the effect is, to a degree, nationwide. The tension and stagnation in Colorado add just one factor to the conditions promoting business apathy throughout the country.

This is not to speak of the manner in which the United States is indicted to the world as a nation that will tolerate long-continued lawlessness by either capital or labor.

The great third party to this civil war, the innocent public, has definite rights in the premises. These rights are being wholly ignored, while bitter antagonists lock horns in an actual death struggle.

A distinct menace of the situation is that hatred and prejudices kindled in Colorado may spread throughout the nation, and start an industrial conflagration that will make disastrous history.

The disintegrants have had a full opportunity to settle their quarrel. They have failed signally.

The time has come for public sentiment to force mediation, from civic sources if possible, from the federal government if necessary.

the pleasure of Atlantans to subordinate their convenience and pleasure to that of their visitors.
The first law of hospitality is giving precedence to one's guest.
Our guests next week will hail from every American state, from Canada and as far south as Central America.

Wherever the Shriners go each year they are accustomed to receiving the best of entertainment and the most comfortable accommodations. Atlanta will live up to that custom.

As touching public utilities in any phase, the visitors should be given of their way.
In case of an emergency, theaters they should be given first choice.

On the streets and in various public places, their comfort and pleasure should be considered paramount to the comfort and pleasure of Atlantans.

The ideal host effaces himself in all particulars save one—that of seeing that his guests enjoy the best of treatment and the best facilities for comfort he has to offer.

Atlanta has played this role spontaneously and with success.

It should be needless to say she will live up to her reputation on this critical occasion.

THE "PEN" FOR THEM!
The story of how Billard and his associates "milked" the New Haven railroad, now being told in Associated Press dispatches, makes ugly reading. If anything were shown to crystallize the public determination against future juggling, skyrocket financing and football tactics in the management of the railroads of this country, that final impulse is supplied by the calm brutality of the New Haven.

The most pitiful feature of the whole thing is that the chief sufferers are widows and orphans, trust funds and the investment of old money and charitable institutions. These sources supplied a large part of the sinews for the game of battlers and shuttlecock.

And when, recently, the New Haven, for the first time in many years, passed its regular dividend, the suffering was, and still is, incalculable.

It appears now that the railroad, as well as the public, conscience has learned enough to be eternally set against such practices in the future. Certainly both railroads and people have paid a penalty sufficiently fearful to drive the lesson home with blood and iron.

Now should the New Haven alone be put upon its regular dividend, the public conscience is simply a super-type of the railroads of the country once used as pawns in the game of finance, and for private profit and stock-juggling adjuncts rather than as public utilities.

Retrospective punishment is, of course, out of question. But it is certain that changes and the interstate commerce commission must be eternally set against such practices in the future.

Should from this day forward be made to know that they face the penitentiary! Knowledge of the fate of the railroad men stiffens the failing moral scruples, deters the cold-blooded gambler with other people's money. Slaps on the wrist from congress, the newspapers and the commission are unavailing unless they come out of the stockholders' pockets and intensify their misery.

But put stripes on the Roman candle financiers and their prey will end! A repetition of the era of high finance and stock-bauch will pillory this nation before civilization.

THE CURE FOR DEMAGOGUES.
Leslie's Weekly of recent issue sounds a lusty note against the demagogue, and reminds us that the plague has ever been with us in some form, beginning with the centuries before Christ and stretching up to this good day.

COLORADO'S CIVIL WAR AS SEEN BY LEADERS OF MINERS AND OPERATORS

(From The New York Independent.)

THE OPERATORS' SIDE.
All of the points which were claimed to be at issue, with the exception of unionism, the Colorado Fuel and Iron company had voluntarily granted to its employees long before the strike was called.

First—The eight-hour day. This was established by the company for all of its coal miners some time ago.

Second—An eight-hour work-day for all men employed in the mines.

Third—The right to belong to a labor union.

Fourth—The abolition of the truck store and store system.

Fifth—The semi-monthly pay-day.

In addition to the above demands the miners are asking for a small increase in wages that will place them on a competitive basis with organized miners of Wyoming and other districts, and are also demanding the abolition of the vicious guard system.

The mine workers of southern Colorado engaged in this strike themselves; that is, they decided the issue unfluenced by any of their officers. For many years men have labored under the most oppressive conditions that could conceivably be imposed by the political and industrial conditions of southern Colorado.

Many of the gunmen imported by the coal companies and the mine operators were brutal and brutal men, women and children.

More than 50 per cent of the men responsible for the strike were killed.

They themselves decided to issue after trying every other method to adjust their grievances.

The miners in northern Colorado have been subjected to many brutal and brutal men, women and children.

They are striking for the right to belong to the union, and like their striking brothers in every other coal field of Colorado, have been subjected to many brutal and brutal men, women and children.

They are striking for the right to belong to the union, and like their striking brothers in every other coal field of Colorado, have been subjected to many brutal and brutal men, women and children.

THE WORKERS' SIDE.
The industrial conditions in the Colorado coal fields is without doubt the most bitter controversy in which our great international union has been engaged for many years.

Five of the seven demands the mine workers of southern Colorado are making of the coal operators are covered by the state law, and are as follows:

First—An eight-hour work-day for all men employed in the mines.

Second—The right to employ check-weighmen.

Third—The right to belong to a labor union.

Fourth—The abolition of the truck store and store system.

Fifth—The semi-monthly pay-day.

THE RIVALRY OF Nemo WEEK IS IN SERVICE - NOT CUT PRICES

THE WISE WOMAN profits from Nemo Week by paying FAIR REGULAR PRICES for standard high-class Nemo Corsets that are always DOUBLE VALUE as corset-values go.

She selects from complete fresh stocks of all the newest Nemo inventions and the old Nemo fashions well. She is sure to get a model that will give her a fashionable shape—which, this year, is more important than a fashionable gown.

She secures the assistance and advice of capable corsetiers, who vie with each other to give her the best possible Nemo Corset Service. This insures STYLE and COMFORT.

In other words, she gets GENUINE CORSET SATISFACTION while preserving her health and guarding her purse.

REMINDER—“Cut price” corset sales are dangerous this year. Petite attempts to make corsets to “model” the natural figure have filled the market with vast quantities of unsuitable, uncomfortable and unworkable corsets which are being unloaded at whatever prices they will bring. SEE A WISE WOMAN!

Here's a Splendid New Nemo for Slender Figures! $3.00 That You Know Very Little About—No. 303 at $3.00

Our Lastikops “Easy-Front” Corset was introduced last January. We haven't advertised it much, because the demand has been even greater than our output. Now we're making them in hundreds of dozens, and we want you to know about them.

No. 303 Very low bust, almost topless, but retaining the Nemo “bridge” construction—this corset doesn't “dig in.” Wide girths of semi-elastic Lastikops Cloth cover nearly the entire gastric region, producing extreme flexibility, freedom of breathing and the “natural figure.” The skirt is very long and flexible. Of fine white Steeplex batiste, lightly boned. Sizes 19 to 25. (No. 304 is same, but with slightly higher bust.) $3.00

This is the greatest corset, for slender to medium figures, ever offered at the price.

Like all other Nemo inventions, it has been copied, using the old ordinary elastic webbing. All such imitations are comparatively valueless. INVESTIGATE “EASY FRONT!”

KOPSERVICE CORSETS—Four models—$5.00

LASTIKOPS CORSETS—Two models—$3.00 up

The world-famous SELF-REDUCING CORSETS—30 models—$3.00, $4 and $5

The only standardized line of corsets in existence, from which every figure can be fitted with correct style, comfort and hygienic safety.

The Universal Popularity of CREX is not so much due to its low price, as to its natural artistic beauty and to the cheerful atmosphere it gives a room or porch.

No longer is CREX considered appropriate only for porches, sun-parlors and summer homes.

To-day, CREX coverings are found on most every floor of the home—the whole year round—and are giving the greatest satisfaction.

A FEW OF THE REASONS WHY

1st There's no raw material so durable and so cleanly—as the impervious wire grass used in the manufacture of CREX.

2d The compact weave and use of strongest wooly absorbent—makes CREX extra substantial.

3d The CREX exclusive method of spinning wire grass into twisted “threads” prevents ravel, adds strength and resiliency.

4th They are sanitary, easy to keep clean and within the income of all households.

Ohio Electric Magnetic Control—Simple as Turning a Doorknob

If It's Up-to-date It's an Ohio

NO other car can give you the magnetic control, by which a small electric takes the place of cumbersome control levers, and governs every operation of the car. It's as simple as turning a doorknob. The magnetic non-slip brake, operated by a button on the control disc, retards the car instantly on the slightest stop. Double external contracting foot-brake for emergency use.

No and no other car can equal the beauty of Ohio design. See the late models, with ashless glass all around, disappearing front window, and many other refinements.

Your own comparison will be the best evidence. Watch on climb Stone Mountain at 3:30 this afternoon.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but get sluggish; the eliminative tissues of the blood to poison the entire system. When your back aches, your head throbs, your stomach is full, your bowels are constipated, your vision is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder troubles you, it is a warning that your kidneys are overworked. Get relief during the night: when you get up, take a tablespoonful of a salt. This will stimulate the kidneys, and in a few days your kidneys will be in a normal state. The famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, and is a natural product. It has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, and to treat the acid in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Bad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure. It makes a delightful effervescent drink. Water, lemonade, or soda can be made with it. It is a natural product, and a mistake for taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Keith Vaudeville.

Three weeks at the Forsyth will be one of the events of the jubilee period. For several months the management has been planning to assemble here the cream of vaudeville talent, with a view of having a program of Keith features that will give the busy theatergoer a most enjoyable and profitable afternoon and evening in the house.

Careful attention has been paid to the arrangement of the program, and there is no act that will fail to win in the slightest degree with any other on the bill. Comedy is the foundation and novelty, feature, and, with these two essential ingredients, it is almost positive that the local people and their many guests will spend delightful afternoons and evenings in the most popular theater here.

The headliner will be that "Willie," "The Happy Tramp," direct from his successful season with "Theatricals." When last at Atlanta, Mr. Willie was one of the stars of this tremendous success here, but did not do any part of his famous vaudeville extravaganza, the show appeared in several cities, and now he is appearing in Atlanta, using a monologue of all popular songs. There were several other leading acts for the first time in this particular week, but the comedian was induced to come to Atlanta, both for business and pleasure.

Luella McConnell, the most beautiful woman in vaudeville, and Grant Willis, who is a capital juvenile actor, will present their latest success, "The Right Girl." Miss McConnell in this sketch appears in the dual role of an actress, and there are many very eye-provoking complications. Mr. Willis has never before, in any of his principal cities, appeared in a sketch where he has appeared as Alexander and Scott, who made their debut in the "Theatricals," and who have been seen in the "Theatricals" in the perfect bill to which they have ever secured here. "KEEP MOVING?" PEOPLE
URGES CHIEF BEAVERS

Police are Making Every Arrangement for Handling Great Shriner Throngs.

Chief Beavers makes an appeal to the citizens of Atlanta to keep moving on the sidewalks "in the downtown districts, and thereby aid the officers in the immediate problem of handling the vast crowds which will be on the streets of Atlanta during the next week.

Members of the police commission were at police station last night for the purpose of discussing with the chief plans for handling the crowds on the streets. After a conference they decided to make an appeal to the people to aid them in their work.

Members of the police commission and Chief of Police Beavers make further request that the traffic laws and speed laws be rigidly adhered to in order to avoid all accidents. Instructions have been given by all patrolmen to arrest offenders who will endanger the lives of the people who will crowd the streets by fast driving.

Chief Beavers received the following communication from a citizen in regard to bicycle and motorcycle riders who heedlessly disregard the law:

Most Excellent and Esteemed Chief of Police: I am writing you today as the first of the month, because I feel it my duty to bring to your attention the fact that the city of Atlanta is being overrun by a horde of bicycle and motorcycle riders who race over the streets and around sharp corners in utter violation of law, very loud and abusive of the day and night. The officers cannot handle them. I was knocked down by one of them. They rarely ring any bells or use lights. They are killed eventually by an automobile, but to be

Roman Catholic Archbishop Puts a Ban on the Pre-valing Fashions.

Geneva, May 9.—The Catholic church having condemned immodest attire of women, has carried the war a step further. The Archbishop of Besancon has issued a warning to parents through all the abbes and cures in his diocese, which touches the western Swiss frontier, that in the future neither confirmation nor communion will be given to young girls who are dressed in the present extreme fashions, which, in his opinion, are indecent. Following is the order issued to the congregations:

"Young girls must not have their bodies marked above all their breasts come to church decollete. If the present ridiculous fashion continues we shall be obliged to make examples by refusing to admit to confirmation and the communion young girls dressed up in the fashions of the modern."

The archbishop in his sermons recently denounced the modern dresses and dances.

Brookhaven Estates Has Come Into Its Own As One of Atlanta's Country Residence Places

Representative of Contractors Here Making Arrangements—Other Concerns Following Lead of Ford.

Work on the Ford Motor company's southern assembling plant, at Ponce de Leon avenue and the belt line of the Southern railway, is expected to begin this week.

H. C. McElwaine, representative of the Philadelphia contracting concern which was awarded the contract for the construction of the building, was in Atlanta last week conferring with Building Inspector Hays in regard to certain details of the structure. Mr. McElwaine stated that the permit would be applied for in a short time and that the construction of the building would start at once.

This enormous structure will contain about six acres of floor space and will cost about $100,000.

It is the plan of the Ford people to ship their cars here knocked down and set them up at the Atlanta plant for distribution all over the southern territory. By this plan the company finds that whereas when the cars are shipped out on a railroad car will contain about six automobiles, when the automobiles are knocked down about twenty of them can be shipped in the same railroad car. This saving in freight charges will be a means of substantial economy.

The opening of the Ford assembling plant will bring to Atlanta several hundred high-salaried employees with their families.

Great Asset to City.

Such plants as this are considered a great asset to the city and it is believed that the Ford Motor company has the best of both worlds in branch manufacturing for the southern states. The Ford Motor company has been the forerunner of many such moves on the part of other concerns.

The Carhart overall people, for instance, have already recognized the economy plan and are now operating a plant on Pryor street for some months for the supply of its southern trade.

The Lynde Air Products company, which was induced to come to Atlanta with a branch plant largely through the efforts of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, has also established a branch on its plant which will be at Ponce de Leon avenue and the belt line of the Southern railway, only a short distance from the assembling plant of the Ford Motor company.

New Manufacturing District.

The business of the Lynde Air Products company is metal molding and it is understood that the company contemplates doing considerable work with the Ford company. The fact that the Lynde Air Products company and the Ford people are both building in the same neighborhood, a factory district, is a very significant manufacturing establishment, would add to the new manufacturing section in Atlanta.

Realty and business men are both greatly pleased with the plan, and have seen fit to come to Atlanta with branch plants, and the Ford people are building in the same neighborhood, a factory district, is a very significant manufacturing establishment, would add to the new manufacturing section in Atlanta.

Formal Application Made.

Formal application was made on Saturday for a permit for the construction of the Ford Motor company's assembling plant on Pryor street, north of the city limits, and the city council will consider the application on Monday. The cost of this building, according to the figures of the permit, is $100,000. The work of construction will start at once.

REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENTS

The progressive real estate men and builders of Atlanta have been quick to see the extraordinary advantages that are available to them in the vicinity of Oglethorpe.

Already there are two of the largest real estate developments in Fulton county being promoted. The Oglethorpe cause is now organizing for the development of this property.

The Butterfly

The butterfly may be used for many decorations, but none prettier or more useful than a sofa cushion. Now that summer is coming, the porch furnishings are to be considered. This same motive may be applied to a table runner and table cover. The same rich coloring carried out in all.

There are so many different styles in the shapes of cushions used now, but the butterfly seems to lend itself to all. The butterfly carried out in these rich colors, either solid or in fancy stitches, is very handsome. The different colors should be outlined in black, unless the effect of blending is required.

The Court Personnel. Early the whole court personnel consists of army, gendarmier, or police officers, and who are not what the Czar's private purse, but from departmental votes. The vast sum on guarding Nicholas during his journeys also comes out of the treasury. Were it not for the general stealing, Nicholas' living did not cost him $250,000 a year. The state treasury, however, which is for the imperial theatres all the rest for himself, he gets extra $37,500 for his private library and $265,000 for the gifts he gives to poor petitioners, and $100,000 for the money mystery. But Russia's hermits, her emperors or beggars, have the same of the same system.

Wide-Awake Chamber Doing Efficient Work

OFFICERS OF MARIETTA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Marietta's Chamber of Commerce has fifty live, active members. Any information desired about Marietta will be cheerfully furnished by the secretary.

The following are the officers and directors:

President: J. S. Potter, president.
Vice President: A. L. Stringer, vice president.
Secretary: George F. Montgomery, vice president.
Treasurer: George H. Keeler, treasurer.
Directors: J. E. McNair, secretary.
George H. Keeler, B. G. Gilbert, L. B. Caruso, L. C. Baldwin, Wm. Tate Holland, L. E. Robinson, T. L. Wallace.

In its march of progress and development Marietta owes much to the wide and progressive chamber of commerce of that city.

This organization has done and is doing substantial service in the way of bringing about needed improvements for the city in "boosting" the Gem City, and in bringing the advantages of the town as a residential and manufacturing center to the attention of the people of the south.

The organization took on new life and underwent a complete reorganization several months ago, and is now one of the most wide-awake chambers in the state. It has plans now under way for many improvements during the coming year, and working hand-in-hand with an efficient corps of city officials hopes to bring about many good things for Marietta within the next twelve months.

One of the first needed improvements which the chamber is striving to have done is to put down curbing along all the principal streets of the city where it has not already been placed. Paving of the streets around the square will be another improvement to be sought later.

The president of the chamber, Mr. A. S. Potter, is one of the wealthiest and most influential men of Marietta, and is taking an active and earnest interest in the work of the chamber. He is ably assisted by the vice president, E. L. Stringer, one of the leading young merchants of the city, and together they make a team which means the accomplishment of many things to the benefit of Marietta.

J. E. McNair, the manager of the Plant of Kennesaw Marble Co., Marble Wholesalers and Contractors—Interior Marble Work a Specialty—Wholesale Monumental Work.

The plant is steam-heated and electric-lighted throughout. Their business extends all over the country, even as far to the Northwest and West as Washington and California, but naturally the bulk of it is in the more nearby country. The monumental business is strictly wholesale—they furnishing finished or rough stock to retail dealers. The building work done by this Company is of the most extensive character, and some of the finest buildings in the country bear testimony to the excellence of their work.

J. E. McNair, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and a Live Wire.

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Marietta. He is the efficient secretary of the Cobb County Fair association. Mr. McNair is proving himself the right man for the place, and through the printed matter he has arranged for the chamber, and his up-to-date methods of handling the office, he is bringing Marietta's chamber to the front as one of the most active in the state.

COBB COUNTY'S SWEET POTATOES

Up to fifteen years ago, Cobb was a one-crop county. Then there came disaster—an overabundant crop of cotton crashed the market price down to five cents per pound, and the farmers went broke right and left. In this emergency quite a number of them cut cotton out and turned to other things. A few turned their attention to sweet potatoes—and here comes a true story. One of those broken farmers rented a little piece of land from the owner, with poor improvements on it, for $15 per year. He was afraid to risk cotton as his sole dependence for paying his rent, and so he planted one acre in sweet potatoes. They came in early, and he hauled them to Atlanta, selling his first digging for $2.25 per bushel, and his last for $1.00 per bushel; and he made from that acre of sweet potatoes more than enough clear profit to pay the rent of the entire farm. It is hardly necessary to add that he has been planting sweet potatoes ever since.

The Mother of a Hero.

(Margaret E. Sangster, Jr. in New York Times.)
A crash, a flash, a momentary triumph. The blast of the sun from out of a sky of blue; and a heap of huddled garments.
With heart now still that once sang brave and true.
A burst of smoke against the mountains cringed.
A buzzard, winging slowly through the sky.
And miles away a little mother—waiting—
And praying to the gracious God on high.

A moan, a stream of life-blood ebbing
A swiftly
A mother's eyes that close in endless sleep;
A bullet-hole and sudden in its coming.
That leaves a wound so horrible and deep
A jagged print large in glowing headlines.
That says, "The left a mother, next of kin."
A country's loud approval of a hero—
And one small woman sobbing through the din!

A fear, a tear, a pair of hands clasped tightly.
A mind that sees a sturdy little boy.
A tiny baby face, with regular dimples.
A woman's heart, doing first—with glory!
A mother's heart, doing first—with glory!
A mother's heart, doing first—with glory!
A mother's heart, doing first—with glory!
A mother's heart, doing first—with glory!

A City Healthful and Sanitary, and Dotted With Prosperous and Varied Manufacturing Plants.

While citizens of Marietta boast of the attractiveness of the city as a residential section, there are also large manufacturing plants, strong business houses, substantial banks, and many other evidences of live commercial activity in the little Gem City. One of the strongest banks in north Georgia is the First National Bank in Marietta. With a capital of $100,000 and surplus $70,000, and designated as United States depository, it takes rank among the safest and leading institutions of its kind anywhere in this section. Its officers are J. E. Massey, president; Joseph M. Brown, vice president; O. P. Reynolds, cashier, and D. R. Little, assistant cashier.

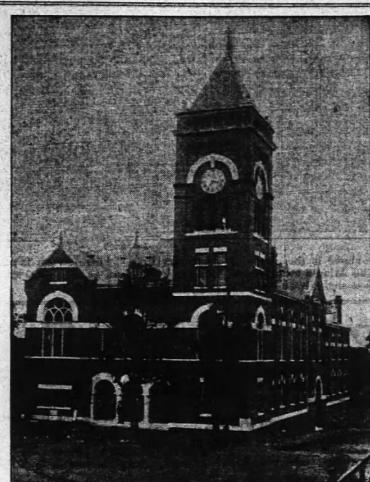

Two other strong banks are also located in Marietta, the Merchants and Farmers Bank, and the Marietta Trust and Banking company. Both these institutions are sound, safe and active, and afford to Marietta every facility for good service along banking lines.

Four railways give to Marietta excellent transportation service, and within the last few years a handsome depot has been erected. The Western and Atlantic, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, Louisville and Nashville and Atlanta Northern railways are the lines passing through the city. Among the larger industries located in Marietta are:

Two chair and furniture factories.
Two big marble plants.
A large knitting mill, where 14,000 radium half-hoses are made daily.

A paper mill.
A shoe factory.
A good newspaper, edited by Josiah Carter, assisted by his wife, who is well known over the state as a writer, and by his son, Josiah, Jr. in connection with the paper a splendid job printing department is maintained.

A large lumber yard and builders' supply company.
And many other industrial plants. A large number of men are employed in these various plants, many of whom are among the leading, substantial men of the town, owning their own homes and taking a keen interest in all that affects the welfare of their city.

Cobb County's Magnificent Courthouse.

Some Interesting Facts About Cobb County

The general altitude of Cobb county ranges from 1,000 to 1,400 feet above sea level. Nearly in the center the beautiful twin hills, known as Kennesaw Mountain, forest-crowned to the very summits, rise to an altitude of 1,828 feet; while ten miles to the west Look Mountain, a perfect cone, shoots up to a like altitude. These little peaks are landmarks for half the county.

Aside from these, the rest of the county is one of rolling, undulating hills and valleys, nearly every little valley traversed by a brook of clear water. Timber has been largely cleared away, perhaps 25 per cent of the land in the county being yet in forests.

For scenic beauty it would be hard to surpass, and in many places the homes of the people are upon rising ground where the eye can take in the country for several miles. Whether regarded from the standpoint of scenery or of cold utility only, it is an ideal country. The soil, whether on the surface red or gray (these two predominating), has a subsoil of red clay. It is a comparatively easy matter to get a seed bed one foot deep, if needed, and the land is susceptible of the very highest improvement known to the art of agriculture. Good farms and good farmers are found in every part of the county, but there is room for five thousand more good farmers within its borders. Right at the border of the county lies a city of 200,000 people, gaining population at the rate of 10,000 a year; furnishing a market for five million dollars of farm produce every year; and also increasing enormously—not 10 per cent of the produce demanded by this great market comes from the nearby territory. Pay Goodyear Prices For Your Tires

Else Require a Reason for an Extra Price

Sixteen makes of tires this year sell above No-Rim-Cut prices.

Some are nearly one-half higher. That means much added tire expense unless those tires are better.

We claim that none are better—none so good. And we cite these facts to prove it.

No-Rim-Cut tires make rim-cutting impossible. And we control the only feasible method yet found to end this waste.

Needless blow-outs, due to wrinkled fabric, are prevented by our "On-Air" cure. This extra process costs us $1,500 daily, and no other maker employs it.

Loose treads are combated in No-Rim-Cut tires by a patent method used by no one else. It lessens this danger by 60 per cent.

All-Weather treads excel all other anti-slides. They are tough, double-thick and enduring. They are flat and regular, so they run like smooth treads. Yet no other tread offers to wet roads such sharp-edged, resilient grips. All these costly features—these money-saving features—are found in No-Rim-Cut tires alone.

What Extra Value?

Then what of extra value can higher prices buy? We know of no way at present to build better tires—to give lower cost per mile. We have tried thousands of formulas, fabrics, methods and processes. But no man as yet has found any way to improve on No-Rim-Cut tires.

Users have found these the best tires built. That is shown by the fact of the largest sale. And they gained that top place when No-Rim-Cut tires cost more than other tires.

Mammoth output has cut Goodyear costs. Modern equipment has cut them. And we took last year an average profit of only 6 1/2 per cent.

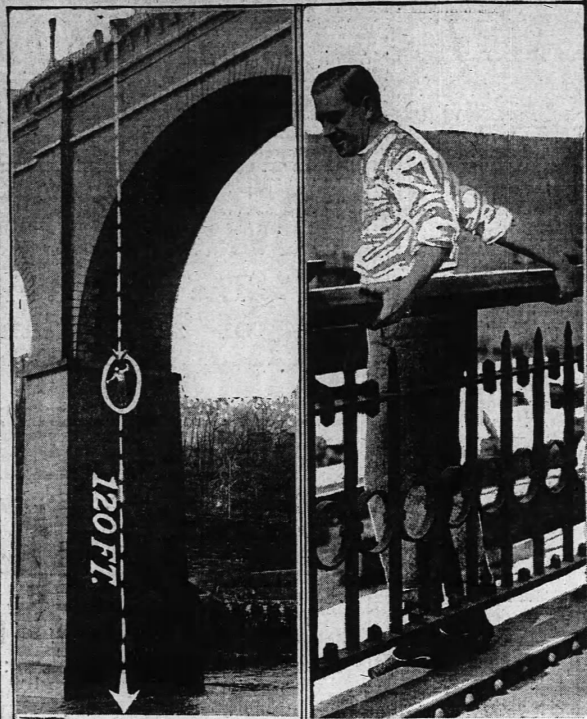

In 1913 our price reductions totaled 28 per cent. Those are the reasons for Goodyear prices. It is easy to make lower-priced tires—but a higher-priced tire—worth the extra price—has not yet been created.

Prove this by comparing Goodyear tires. If the dealer will supply you if you ask for Goodyear tires.

ADAIR PLAYS A PART IN BIG MOVIE FILM

Atlantans Will Pass on His Acting at Local Theaters This Week.

If, just because Forrest Adair happens to be a potentate of the coming week's festivities, you think that Adair or any other guy who tromps the boards has got a monopoly on acting, your judgment is about as accurate as a waterbury watch with a brick in its eye.

Your main fault lies in the fact that he has not yet figured acting in Potentate Adair's "reputatory" accomplishments.

On next Wednesday Potentate Adair will blossom forth in all his robust and astounding histrionic powers on the screens of Atlanta's movies.

The idea you want to get is that Atlanta is to have a regular Shriner drama with regular Shriners for actors.

Through the originality, energy and activities of the Al Hartnett Film Company, the manufacture of this drama was being the stage setting.

Another scene was made at the store of George Muse & Co.

Next Tuesday, when Potentate Adair plays the review stand in his big part.

The tale that will be told in the picture is to the following effect: A high Shriner plot is made to insinuate upon his little son. The son is later adopted by a wealthy steel magnate, the son being none other than the aforestated Potentate Adair.

Just when the boy with the Shriner pin is in his hardest streak of luck the pin is discovered by the steel magnate, who unites the brother and son, and the boy is adopted by the steel magnate.

Noble Hunter Perry, of Tansan temple, takes the role of the boy. Noble Bob Grey impersonates a will boss, who figures in the story and the part of the little girl is taken by Miss Jennie Lindner, of 112 Forest avenue.

SHRINERS WILL GET MAIL AT POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Boling If Jones will set up in the Atlanta postoffice arcade on the Fourth street side of the Federal building an information bureau for Shriners and all other visitors seeking mail Monday morning.

At first Postmaster Jones contemplated opening a Shriners postoffice, a regular sub-station for the week, at the Empire building or at the Piedmont, to which all mail addressed to Shriners should be sent direct for delivery. But after a conference with Postmaster Boling and Mr. Greenfield, who have attended many Shriners' gatherings, he concluded that an information bureau at the main office would reach further and be more satisfactory to all visitors than a branch postoffice.

DR. GEORGE BROWN HOME FROM THE GRAY REUNION

Dr. George Brown, member of the Executive General M. R. Martin's staff the past week in Jacksonville, Fla., came home yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, matron of honor for the command.

"I've attended reunion after reunion for those old gray-clad boys," said Dr. Brown, Saturday afternoon. "I've never had one so much like this one. Veterans I met a year ago apparently still had the same old faces, passed before me almost tottering, while many an old fellow for which I have been fondly looking never showed. Their absence needed to explanation. The crowd of Gray had come to this, and—that's all."

FRED HOUSER RETURNS FROM CONVENTION TRIP

Confident That Atlanta Will Secure Large Number of Big Gatherings Next Year.

Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta Convention, returned Saturday from New York, Boston and Detroit where he attended the American Cotton manufacturers' association, the Textile association and the Shoe association respectively, with the endeavor to get these conventions for Atlanta next year.

Mr. Houser says the biggest convention by far that he is trying to bring to Atlanta is that of the Textile Exhibitors' association, which has been meeting in Boston. The Textile association has been using the McChesney hall in that city, which afforded 12,500 square feet for the exhibition of $15,000. Atlanta, however, has offered a convention hall for 200,000 square feet, which would compress five of charge.

The textile people, according to Mr. Houser, are favorably impressed with the idea of coming to Atlanta next year and the executive committee of the association has been instructed to send a committee to the city to see if they or not Atlanta is really a convention town.

Mr. Houser is urging the various sections of the American Cotton manufacturers, the National Cotton manufacturers, the Georgia Cotton manufacturers and the Southern Textile association to bring their conventions to Atlanta in 1915. He says that the possibilities will do so. Mr. Houser says that the possibilities will do so.

FEDERAL AGENTS PREPARE PICKPOCKETS HERE ASSETS DETECTIVE

Refugees From Mexico City Report That Dictator Is in Desperate Straits—His Fall Can't Be Long Delayed.

Vera Cruz, May 8.—Attention of these interested in the Mexican situation has been turned to Mexico City, where the next scene in the national drama is looked for by many American and foreign observers. The outside world knows little of what is going on there. It is impossible for any correspondent in the capital to send any but a close-by, censored report. Not many outside who venture into the city, and most of these are foreigners, and these are well armed with passports and make only cursory investigations.

They describe the capital as surcharged with intense apprehension and despite Huerta's apparent confidence and result of the daily routine, there are signs of unbecoming, of intrigues. To those who would bring to the world a true picture of conditions there the capital is virtually a forbidden city.

One traveler, who returned today, declared that Louis Dantin, the only American remaining at the embassy when Charles O'Donoghue and his staff departed, had been seized by agents of Huerta and was in danger of execution when the British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, interfered and obtained his release saving him protection in the British legation.

Huerta Is Desperate. The arrest of Walter C. Whiffin, correspondent of the Associated Press, and Washington newspaper photographer, J. Z. Sutton, and their detention, while Mr. Whiffin, who were arrested with them, were promptly released. Huerta's determination to take the extreme measures before permitting the rebels to acquire possession of the city is evident from the various reports are current, ranging from threats to force an outside attack on the city, to the possibility that Huerta has mined the national palace, the postoffice, the department of communications and other public buildings.

A man who has been residing in Alamo City estimates Huerta's forces as probably not more than 3,000, with no great supply of artillery and ammunition. Huerta's forces are described, however, as the flower of the army.

Zapata, after a successful attack on Cuernavaca, is reported to have moved his forces to Alamo, only a few miles distant from the capital.

Huerta Sees to Fall. The northern rebels are meeting with less and less resistance from the discouraged federal commanders, many of whom have been called into the city by Huerta. The opinion of most military men and all intelligent observers is that the world will not have long to wait before Huerta's fall is a matter of days and not of months. It is reported that friends called on Huerta a few days ago and have urged him not to subject the city to a bombardment, but to leave the city and take his stand. Huerta, it is reported, has refused to do so, and has insisted that the city be defended.

Many who have lived in the capital are convinced that Huerta will not attempt to leave at least until after he has made a last desperate effort. They predict the report of the destruction of the city before his departure, explaining that Huerta has no other use for the city than as a place where he can become invulnerable. They regard the city as a place which soon will be as dangerous for Mexicans as it is for Americans.

Up to the present no additional American troops have been sent beyond the frontier. General Foxton's Fifth regiment, which was sent to Vera Cruz, and American troops already here are being held in readiness for the event of a general emergency, while the blue-jackets coast guard vessels are on duty.

Attacks on Americans. From the interior and isolated points reports of attacks on Americans continue to trickle through the lines, although no direct hostile action has been brought in. All travelers coming down from the capital are stopped by newspapers and other officials and their names are recorded. The night of the attack on the American legation, news of the post-attack was unchanged, news of the post-attack was unchanged, news of the post-attack was unchanged.

General Mas' headquarters are at Paso del Macho and up the railroad as far as Tepic. This man was the Eleventh, Nineteenth and Twentieth and Twenty-sixth infantry regiments.

Beyond Tepic hands of rurales were posted along the Vera Cruz City. The number was not estimated, but there was a large garrison at each railroad station.

City of East Point An Up-to-Date Suburb

With an Abundance of Pure Artesian Water and Excellent Sanitary System, Her Death Rate Is Lowest on Record.

BUSINESS HOUSES AND MANUFACTURING PLANTS

Good Schools and Churches
Serve a Population of More Than 6,000 People.

By R. F. Thompson.

East Point is strictly up to date, having its own system of waterworks, sewerage (twenty miles each of water mains and sewerage), and electric lighting and power plant.

It has an abundance of pure artesian water. There is no open sewerage in the city, the closed system emptying into septic tanks without the city limits.

The city of East Point is located on a high plateau, and has the lowest death record of any city or town in Georgia, and is the gateway through which College Park and Hapeville, her two neighbors, and their traffic reach Atlanta.

These three towns are so closely related that in effect they are a continuous city.

While East Point is a city with a business heart, the town boasts some of the most attractive home sections to be found anywhere—The Heights, Linwood, Woodland Park, Jefferson Park, Colonial Hill and Washington Park, all within the city limits proper.

One secret of the low death rate is attributed to the percentage of young people who are beginning their career in a city with a big present and a big future.

The population is 6,000, and the assessed valuation of property approximately $3,000,000. The increase in population in the last ten years has been over 300 per cent, and the increase in property values over 400 per cent in the same period.

MANUFACTURING IN EAST POINT

The manufacturing section lies mostly without the corporate limits, and, like the colored section, is segregated. In the manufacturing districts of East Point is represented a capitalization of more than $10,000,000. The merchants of East Point have the first pull at a pay roll of over three-quarters of a million dollars a year, besides their general trade.

East Point has two of the south's most important transportation lines of railroads and Atlanta freight rates, with more and better shipping facilities than are enjoyed by the larger city.

East Point has two splendid banks, three wholesale houses, and fifty merchandise concerns, representing every line of business.

She has fine schools of her own, and is within walking distance of Cox college and the Georgia Military academy. Another $30,000 city school building is projected to take care of the rapidly increasing population.

There are good churches representing nearly every denomination, and the moral character of the community is of highest standard.

There are no saloons or "blind tigers," and the city jail is empty. The city recorder and the police department have little to occupy their time. As a cosmopolitan city East Point ranks very high, having a citizenship that will compare with the best anywhere in refinement and in moral tone.

East Point has the finest street car service to be found anywhere, 3-cent fares and transfers over the entire Atlanta system with a 5-minute schedule in the busy hours of the day.

The telephone system is a unit with Atlanta, having one of the important exchanges of each telephone company located here.

In short, East Point is one of the coming cities of south Fulton county. (Adv.)

Woes of a Palmist.

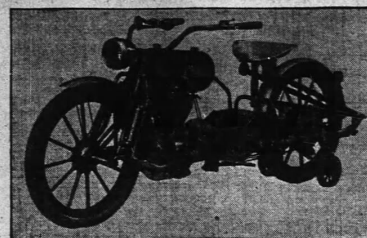

(From The Indianapolis News.)

The telling of fortunes by palmistry is not the pleasant and remunerative pastime in London that it is in Indianapolis and the professor of chronomancy, whether a lady or gentleman, runs the hazard of the law if the deception practiced should be too gross or involve consequences detrimental to conjugal felicity. So when Elizabeth Cline told the wife of a policeman that she would be separated from her husband for a time and recommended her not to live with him again, as he was a treacherous man, she walked straight into the net the policeman's wife had spread. She told a detective sergeant who had aided his hands to make her think he was an engine driver, but if made the manager of a business could be a great success. For this information the palmist was fined $25 one hundred dollars.

An old goldfish-breeding station in the village of Fushimi, Japan, has a pond area of 44,000 square feet and an annual output of about 500,000 goldfish, in addition to which golden carp and common carp are grown. Men persons are employed in the various branches of the work and six varieties of fish are handled.

$1665 for the New Standardized Cole

Standardization keeps quality up and price down

New Ten Four Cole, wheelbase 118 inches
$1665

Offering you for the first time the

COLE
The Standardized Car

New Standardized
Ten Four Cole

A four-cylinder car containing all recognized Standard parts, selling below prices at which the best four-cylinder cars have been selling—this has been your constant demand.

Complete standardization alone made it possible to meet this demand. Thanks to Cole's original system of complete standardization, you can now buy a really Standard Four for $1665—an astounding saving to you because it is far under any price you have ever been able to obtain on a car in this class.

Built to meet your personal demands

No one has believed it possible to build as good an automobile as this Cole Four at anything like the price—$1665; but complete Standardization has done it—six months ahead. This car is built precisely to your personal demands. It has all the parts which you have designated by your approval as Standard. Nothing is skimmed. It's the same old roll of honor, plus Cole's co-ordinating and blending genius.

And Cole does not offer you tremendous value in the above model alone. He offers you both Fours and Sixes. He believes that the business of a manufacturer is to obey public demand, not to attempt to dictate it. By an exhaustive research throughout the United States and Canada we have determined positively that the demand is for both Fours and Sixes—therefore we build both Fours and Sixes.

Since the announcement of Standardization, every line of big business has tended to adopt it—because it is sound. Standardization in automobile building does three things: keeps quality up, brings price down, and puts into the hands of the users new improvements—instantly.

Complete standardization in a single motor car

You can now buy a Cole Four for $1665, because the blue prints upon which Cole has shaped his policy have been at all times scientifically accurate and far advanced.

Five years ago Cole conceived the idea of combining the brains of all the great recognized automobile specialists and concentrating these brains into a single motor car. Cole called these parts makers the Standard builders, and he called the car built exclusively from their products—the Standardized Car. When he had his system complete, he gave it to the world in the form of the biggest automobile advertisement ever printed—a six-page treatise on Standardization.

An invitation to Dealers—When you come to the 500-mile Speedway, May 30th, visit the big new Cole factory. It covers an entire city block, and is one of the five most modern automobile plants in America. In the meantime we are now ready to consider new dealer franchises for 1915.

A Dash Transformer

is demanded by every motorist who would do away with the old, unsightly coil box and who would possess the most effective instrument for his motor.

The Splitdorf "TS" Transformer has an electrical construction that makes its firing qualities with any engine unsurpassed by any other transformer or coil.

In replacing the old-style box coil, the advantage is all in favor of the new, compact, up-to-date "TS" transformer. Mechanically constructed, every part is accessible—every part is interchangeable with spare parts always carried in stock—windings encased in cement paraffine in the old style box coils and rendered useless when damaged or burned out, can be replaced and repaired in the "TS" transformer regardless of what the trouble may be.

And appearances count heavily in favor of the "TS" Transformer—the neat switch; the instrument contained in a light waterproof case extending through the dashboard, the clean dash and the doing away with the cumbersome box coil.

YOU CAN HAVE your car equipped with this new style SPLITDORF TRANSFORMER to work in connection with the SPLITDORF MAGNETO on your car.

The SPLITDORF "TS" Transformer is INTERCHANGEABLE WITH ANY TYPE TUBE OR DASH TRANSFORMER, and can be attached to any car.

WE WILL MAKE you a liberal allowance on your old coil in exchange for a transformer of the new style.

AND—you can have any make of magneto or, in fact, any ignition system throughout with us—low tension, dual set, contained high tension systems and coils and transformers—and SAVE REAL MONEY with our up-to-the-minute equipment.

THE CRACKERS ARE THE WINNERS

SCENES AT THE GEORGIA-TECH GAMES IN ATHENS

Pennant Raising Is Huge Success; Crackers Win

Tradition and Barons Are Routed—Ed Dent Stops the Losing Streak—Final Count 6 to 4.

By Dick Jemison.
Manager Billy Smith yanked the barons off the pennant pole in center field at Poncey Park yesterday afternoon, and the handsome blue pennant with white letters, "Champions, Southern Association, 1912," was unfurled to the breeze.
This happened at 2:28 o'clock. At 2:45 the Crackers went to the mat with the Birmingham Barons. In the first meeting between these two deadly rivals this season.
The result after over two hours of slow balling, was, Atlanta 6, Birmingham 4.

This tradition was routed. On pennant-raising days, it has generally been the custom for the home team to lose the game that follows the flag-raising, but Bill Smith's boys have captured the Angoras that the tradition made made run all over the lot.

Ed Dent is a regular flag-raising day hurler. Last year, Birmingham had the Crackers the flag-raising day at Birmingham. Ed was chosen to do the hurling against Bill Smith's boys, won 3 to 1. He continued his perfect percentage on flag-raising days in this year.

Ed picked two during the game when a few times away, he and a couple of boys allowed the Barons to grab a couple of markers in the fourth and fifth.

By Clark Howell, Jr.

R&G CORSETS

YOU know the reputation that stands back of every R & G Corset—you know that your mother and grandmother relied on the R & G for their grace of figure. All through these passing years R & G Corsets have reflected the trend of fashion—and never more perfectly than today when fashion demands relaxed figure lines and the uncorseted effect. The chic, sinuous grace and elegance of R & G Corsets commend them to every woman who wishes to be correctly gowned.

Go to your favorite store today and see the latest R & G Models. Find the particular model suited to your figure, whether tall, short, slim, plump, dainty or stately. Ask especially to see the new Laced-front R & G. It produces the flat-back effect that fashion demands. The soft little dancing models will also interest you. Fitted with elastic sections, tricot back and all the latest devices, R & G Corsets give you unknown comfort and beautiful figure lines.

"Bargain" Day
used Pianos

We devote Monday of each week to disposing of the hundreds and hundreds of used Pianos which pour into our Home Office at Atlanta from our customers, throughout the South Atlantic and Gulf States, in exchange for new Pianos and Player Pianos. Many of these instruments are so slightly used that they can with difficulty be distinguished from new ones, and all have been thoroughly repaired and renovated in our local shop. They represent every conceivable make of instrument.

All Must Go at Sacrifice Prices

We do not ask or expect any profit on these instruments, for we receive them in such numbers that we cannot possibly accommodate them. They are yours at a fraction of their actual worth. Come in next Monday and look them over, or write for descriptive prices and terms.

Rich's 47th Anniversary Sale

Nobles & Ladies You Are Welcome
"Es Selamu Aleikum" (Peace be with you)

THE SHRINERS are the playground of Masonry. Though no formal part of Masonry, none but a high degree Mason can become a Shriner. This qualification accounts for the unusually high type of manhood in the order.

Though originating in Ancient Turkey, the Shriners—as we know them—were introduced into America scarcely forty years ago. The picturesque Oriental symbolism had something to do with establishing the order, but the Shriners have flourished chiefly because real men like to meet occasionally for a bit of clean fun.

The Shriners have "pulled off many clever stunts" elsewhere; we gladly turn Atlanta over to them to do with as they like.

In only one thing are we not agreed—the Shriner Salutation of "Es Selamu Aleikum." (Peace be with you.) Atlanta has raised $7,000 to entertain the Shriners—with so much money to spend, who in the HOT SANDS wants peace?

This Is "On the Shriners"

Every Atlantan is familiar with our Star and Crescent emblem that we feature long before the Shriners' similar emblem was thought of in Atlanta. There is some reason, then, for this remark from a well-known local woman:

"My, Rich's must see a tremendous amount of money in advertising. Just see how they have posted up their Star and Crescent trade mark all over this town."

—Because behind this store is the confidence of the public—they believe in our methods and our merchandise.

—It is in recognition of this confidence that we hold the 47th Anniversary Sale. This page of values—taken with different prices of equally good values in The Georgian and The Journal—is our simple "Thank You" for the splendid business you have helped us build for ourselves and Atlanta.

There are leghorns, henns, Panamas and lace hats. Combined with soft crepes, malines, silks and satins, dainty flowers, ribbons and feathers, they are brilliantly exclusive and charmingly wearable. Values $12.50 to $19.50 at $7.95, $10 and $12.50.

For Women Who Know and Care We Announce a New Shipment of

Front Lace Gossard Corsets

The first front lace corset was the Gossard. It was designed after consultation with the leading surgeons of Chicago, two of whom now take time from their regular practice to teach corsetiers in the Gossard school.

—Our buyer and Miss King—special Gossard corsetiere—are graduates of this school, as is attested by their diplomas.

—The Gossard was the first corset—front lace or otherwise—to advertise surgical fittings in connection with a regular department.

—Successes are generally imitated, but the original front lace corset—the Gossard—easily maintains its leadership.

—The demand for Gossards has swamped the factory. Now that they have caught up, we have received our new shipments and stocks are again complete. There's a Gossard corset for every type of figure; and our corsetiers are trained to select

TRADE NEWS NOTES

C. H. Williams, representing the Burt Cliney Canning Company, 27 Oneida, N. Y., in the Birmingham, Ala. territory, was a visitor at Pain & Stamps yesterday. The boys around the house were unable to find out whether Mr. Williams was over to see Neal Keefe, "The Ketchup Kid," who has just arrived in Atlanta for a stay of several weeks, or to attend the pennant raising at the baseball park.

C. P. Phillips, representing the Ohio Match Company in the southern states, is in the city on a visit to Pain & Stamps, distributors for the Ohio Match Company in this territory.

E. L. Adams, of the E. L. Adams company, was permitted to look over the Memorial hospital about the middle of last week. Adams, a bright, alert, and able man, is not sufficiently able as yet to attend to any business.

J. P. Womble, with the Grumling-Spaulding company, was the only "in" yesterday morning. Mr. Womble enjoyed a nice trade on "Premium Brand" shoes last week and reports that he has appointments with quite a number of his customers who are coming to Atlanta for Shriners' week.

BRIGHT-COLORED NECKWEAR TO BE WORN THIS FALL

The All-Star Manufacturing company will announce their fall line of neckwear in a few days, reports President and Manager W. O. Steele. "Four-in-hands in all the bright colors will be the prevailing styles. Wide flowing ends, such as are being worn at the present time will be good for fall." Discussing the spring season, Mr. Steele said that business had been better than last year, and the company continued to show a steady growth. With the organization, "if any very enthusiastic over prospects for fall and winter indications are that it will prove one of the best seasons we have ever had," said Mr. Steele.

E. G. Thomas, president of the Rice & Hutchins Atlanta company, is in Boston, Mass., attending the semi-annual meeting of the Rice & Hutchins managers and factory men, to discuss styles and order samples for spring. Mr. Thomas expects to be in Boston for several days.

A. J. Bruce, representing Thomas J. Lipton, was a visitor at Pain & Stamps yesterday.

The "ins" at Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company yesterday morning were J. J. Chen, J. J. Law, J. J. Yates and J. J. Armstrong. These boys all enjoyed an exceedingly profitable business last week, in addition to a heavy trade as did other members of the sales force.

R. W. Harris, a member of the A. M. Robinson company sales organization, is going at a record-breaking gait today. He took the road with the sample line some three weeks ago. In fourteen days he has sold and turned in orders for over $12,000 worth of goods. If he can maintain this average for one month all records will have been smashed. Here's luck to him.

Brown-Perryman-Greene company, almost had a full registration yesterday morning the following "ins" having reported: C. D. Dickinson, J. O. Chambers, J. A. Bates, J. P. Tate, A. N. Greene, W. A. Haley and H. M. Walker, Jr., and every one of them are going to be in the house all this week.

Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company expect to have several "ins" in the house next week, as the "ins" received notices from four or five of the boys of appointments with the top set of customers in the house who will be over for business.

R. L. McMillan and Lemmon Artrey, two prominent merchants of Ackworth, Ga., were the "ins" at A. M. Robinson company's Saturday morning.

John Stacey and company received reports from the following members of their salesforce yesterday morning: D. W. Brewster, Frank Coe, H. T. Burton, V. M. Hyatt, A. W. Hughes, P. H. Jeter, R. H. Jackson, S. A. Johnson and Banks Whitman. All of these boys enjoyed a fine business and most of the bunch have appointments with customers in the house during Shriners' week.

Everybody is quite busy around S. P. Richards company now. All the following salesmen are in: S. S. Harrison, J. R. Thornton, F. J. Tennant, J. R. Callier, J. H. Huff and J. M. Bennett. They are getting up their line of samples for fall and will take the road after Shriners' week.

J. K. Orr Shoe company has had advice from a number of the salesmen, who expect to be in the house during next week, to fill appointments with customers, who are coming over for the festivities and to buy some shoes while in the market.

M. P. Sullivan, with J. K. Orr Shoe company, was in from his territory for a day or so last week. Mr. Sullivan came in from Greenwich, S. C.

Great things can be accomplished by united effort. A team that is pulling together is never kicking. It is the team that is kicking in never pulling.

When you send out of your home town for an article, you buy without seeing and pay in advance. Live at home.

"The Ketchup Kid" Here on Long Visit To Pain & Stamps

Neal W. Keefe, representing the Burt Cliney Canning company, Oneida, N. Y., knows throughout the territory as the "Ketchup Kid," has arrived in the city for a business visit of about six weeks' duration. While here, Mr. Keefe will make his headquarters with Pain & Stamps, who control the Burt Cliney line in this territory. Mr. Keefe will spend practically all of his time working the trade with various members of Pain & Stamps' salesforce, here in the city and on the road.

WOODLAND HILLS LOTS

ARE SELLING at $12.50 per foot, $250 cash, balance easy for 4 years. Every lot has a frontage of 100 feet and more. Some are 350 and 450 feet deep. The price carries with it water, sewer and sidewalks. Everything about the subdivision is big, big lots, big 80 and 100-foot streets, big original trees, a big 400-acre subdivision; big, fine roads running to and through it, and big people are going to buy it, and they will make big money.

The only thing small about it is the price and terms; think of a lot 100x400 feet selling for $12.50 per foot, with water, sewer and sidewalks. If this property should happen to stop selling the town will cease to grow, for there is not another subdivision like it—never will be and never can be at the price. DEMONSTRATION CHEERFULLY GIVEN

By INEZ HAYNES GILLMORE

[illegible]

YOUTH is the keynote of the fashions of the day—the slim girlish figure in a sheath of flower-like silks and dainty filmy ruffles and furbelows. Consequently the sweet girl graduate has many wonderful models and fabrics from which to choose her graduation frock.

Take, for instance, the three shown in the illustration. The one on the youthful Portia, in cap and gown, is a simple draping of exquisite shadow lace with a wide soft girdle ending in a huge butterfly bow directly in front and a novel tunic of yellow taffeta.

The central figure, which typifies Spring is clothed in the quaintest frock imaginable. It is of white chiffon taffeta. The bouffant skirt drapery ends in a full short flounce finished at the edge with a pinked taffeta ruing. The bodice and the sleeves are fashioned on the lines of the odd little peasant blouses. The girlish décolletage ends in a wide flaring wired lace collar straight from Paris.

A FASCINATING note is added by the three cabbage roses, such as our grandmothers wore, tucked in the girdle.

The third figure shows a three-tier model in a new deep-pointed embroidered flouncing; it has a bustle sash in apple green satin.

Satin sandals matching the color notes and worn with white silk stockings give another French note.

was not the sort to trust a trail along which she might follow. To right and left was the mystery of the jungle. In that jungle was the man of power, the indomitable spy. In which direction she must leave to the power that had guided her steps so far, but she knew she must make quick choice.

As though her question was to be answered for her, she noticed the chatter of the monkeys suddenly changing, observed a wild alarm, their voices and, looking up, saw a host, an army of monkeys, great numbers of them, spring swiftly, in wild disorder, from tree to tree. For some reason, perhaps the note so closely kin to terror of human beings in their every action, Lestibé felt a thrill of something more than unusual coming upon her as she stared into the blackness of the forest, and she felt in her alarm swiftly she awoke back before the blasting balls of fire that were fastened upon her from the heavy wall of vines and creepers.

eyes, those eyes that did not move from her face but sent forth flames as though they were fed from some unquenchable fire. A crackling of twigs and the wind disappeared. But the rustle overhead, the wild screams of the monkey tribe, did not diminish in volume. It struck Lucille as incongruous that from the hated she had felt a moment before for the gibbering little creatures with their ape faces, she should now be experiencing a friendliness, almost a sense of com-

From the Tree Top.

Again that crackling of twigs, this time in greater volume, and where before but one pair of wild eyes had stared at her, there were now many eyes. She recoiled at the first, but her savage friends had built of night that the jungle beast might not distress them. But she had no means of lighting a fire. She was alone, with nothing to assist her save her own ingenuity. She retreated slowly, fear hanging upon her feet, holding her back even as low growths indicated that her retreat was observed and would probably be taken for a sign of fear.

At the sound the trees were shaken violently by another rush of the little tree-man. It gave her an idea instantly. Even as the eyes grew miraculously into long, graceful bodies, Lucille reached up and grasped the thick walls of creepers dangling from a giant-trunked tree. Came a rush, so silent and sure-footed she could hear but the faint pat-pat of the leopard's feet, followed by a heavy click of jaws. Instantly she drew her feet up under her and fear lending impetus to her movements, clambered swiftly up the vine until the welcome crotch of the tree

Below her gathered the leopards, their sleek bodies twining restlessly round and round the tree where their quarry was, now and then leaping high in the air, their bodies convoluting as they sprang toward her, trying fruitlessly to find some method of reaching that tree-crotch.

Their undiminished ferocity sent a chill through her. Higher and higher she climbed, climbed until the terrifying sight was shut from her eyes by the heavy foliage beneath, climbed until her muscles ached, climbed until even the Beneath her swayed the jungle. Above her flickered a myriad of stars. Like peep-holes in some great theater-curtain they were through which the water-planet night watch what was going on in the world. They thrilled Conell with their familiarity. So long she had been here in this jungle she seemed to have forgotten the existence of stars, regarded them as old friends. These same stars that looked down upon her now, were looking down upon Manila, upon her father, upon her sweetheart. These same stars were candles of Truth that would not, could not unblinking look upon such a disaster as threatened the world.

The reflection loaned her a courage from without herself. She felt a great weight lifted from her eyeballs at being once more in a natural light. She strained her sight in every direction, revelling in this glimpse of a world she knew so well, rejoicing at the realization that even the vast jungle with its menacing breath was but a shallow thing that reached but a little way and only superficially closed out the heavens, the same heavens that looked down upon her home.

And then her eyes were halted, stayed in their review by the sight of a long, thin spiral of smoke rising and reaching up toward the stars in a way that seemed to come from man to the westward. But Laddie knew that smoke was fire and the fire to be that lighted by human hands.

She lifted her eyes toward one glowing, long-winked star that seemed so close she had but to reach up her finger tips to snuff its light. And the flame of the star seemed to bend toward her. Incline gracefully toward her as though acknowledging the gratitude that glowed in her own star-like eyes and encouraging her and cheering her with its lustre.

Loubeque Fights Down a Strange Emotion.

LOUBEQUE could not have explained why, had he tried, but the thought that Lucille still possessed the mystic amulet given her by the savage chief for saving his daughter's life and the fact that she had been seen in the city's machine shops worried him more than a little. True, his plot had succeeded, the pit his servant dug across the trail had swallowed her up, and the papers he had scattered about her were precious papers. But he was worried. This jungle was a menacing thing, a something which he could not command as it had been his custom to command things in the city. He felt that it was but little stronger than the fear of the reluctant girl. He felt himself, at times, almost wish that he had never taken the girl and forbidden his serving her with death sentences.

Forcing his marches in mad desire to weary his body so, at night, his brain would succumb to the utter weariness that gripped him, Hugh Loubague tried to fight away this change that was struggling to take place within himself. He knew that it could not come, knew that the habit of a lifetime, such thought as he had concentrated on his revenge could not be beaten down by anything, and still there was something within him which taunted him with his inability to put the girl out of the way where she would no longer be a hindrance in the working out of his was late in the fourth night that he finally saw to the sinking as his servants had prepared and stretched over the floor instantly into profound slumber. He had fought against heavy sleep for the actions of the man had been unusually furtive and restless all day. There had been times when he would stop, retrace their path always as though studying their trail. How long he had slept he had no means of knowing. The waking was of the most abrupt.

Grasping his revolver, Loubeque sprang to his feet, instantly wide-awake. For just a second he waited there then drew a steady aim upon the leaping toro. The gun spoke, followed almost instantly by the shrill voice of Lucilla.

machinations worried him more than a little, but his plot had succeeded, the pit had been dug.

Loubeque caught a glimpse of this, then his efforts to reach her side, he was shut from sight completely. He tried to stumble back to the shore, but he was unable to find his feet and slide backwards. He clutched vainly for support, his hands encountering the arm of a man. Cold water closed upon him and, still clutching the arm, he allowed himself to float down the stream for a ways. Then, in a turn, he managed to catch the arm of a fragrant lady of his dead servant, horribly mutilated by the hands of the lion, to shore. But strong though he would, the

For Three Days Lucille Kept Very Near the Camp Fire

With the Earth Bound Creatures.

It was the night of the fourth day that she decided to take a desperate chance, the same night that creeping close upon the camp she saw something about the actions of the native that made her keep very still, her eyes following his every movement with the alertness of one of the animals that prowled without that some of light from the fire. She caught her breath with a little gasp as she saw the man creep noiselessly toward the tent and then from about his neck the precious bag which carried the papers she had come so far to rescue.

The animal uttered a low growl, stood his ground for a moment before the man, then he darted at him, then tucked his tail between his legs and slunk back into the jungle from which he had appeared so unexpectedly. Lucille bent over the wounded man, uttering a low cry of sympathy as she turned away in terror from the horribly wounded torso. Gradually it dawned upon her that the man was dead, quite dead. She

For just a second she paused. Then some impulse governing her she thrust the burning knot of wood between the interstices of a nearby lattice work of vines and slunk stealthily to the right, knowing the spy would follow the light instead of herself. Even as she watched his movement

Loubeque. Suddenly, without the slightest warning she saw the ground moving, moving restlessly, as if it would move had some monster mole been burrowing beneath its surface. It was moving, moving, moving, moving, moving, moving, moving back, wide-croaky at the spectacle of a great stone door suddenly springing wide and hurling through the air, man who had stood upon it to one side, completely out of her sight. She advanced timidly, staring about for signs of the spy but he was nowhere to be seen. She perceived that she was alone, that she was completely, wonderingly, half inclined to believe herself in a trance. For a flight of stone steps reached up to her, reached up from the

Slowly she groped her way back to the step finding the last one and feeling about for some means of throwing back the opening. The step beneath her feet were slippery, worn as though the feet of thousands and hundreds of thousands had passed that way for as many years. And a way, too, but, yet never so close as to come in contact with her, for the owner of the feet that slipped and slid was not to be seen. She stepped. Above her, that solid wall; beneath her steps that led down into the bowels of the earth about her, human beings whom she could not see. In the intensity of her nervousness, she flung herself upon the steps, giving way to racking sobs at the horrible fate that appeared to have

Her knees jolted almost from under her as she reached out, and finally found no downward step. Round devious, black passages, through rock-railed aisles, some so close the sides brushed against her, she was hustled. She had given herself completely up to her guides. She knew, with a heavy despair that only accident could enable her to find her way back to the steps through all the turns they had made. Quite abruptly she felt her eyes blinded, as the mantle of blackness was flung aside. For a moment she

Sick with the unwholeness of the sight, Lucille lifted her eyes, at a thrill chattering notes in the gutturals, a note that was strangely familiar, even welcome. Anything would have been welcome to her ears as against the repulsive noises made by the mutes. She stared wonderingly at the enormous carved statue of a malignant faced man, a man with mighty torso and gigantic arms, a man whose head towered far posture and snatched the necklace of rubies from about the idol's neck, flinging it squarely into the center of the mob. It had the effect of drawing them back for a moment. With shrill squeals, the orang's hairy paw plucked jewel after jewel from the idol, hurling them at the creatures with the speed of bullets. Again and again he drove the back from her and Lucille constantly fought her way closer to this strange protector.

Despite herself she almost succumbed to a feeling of faintness from the nausea which the creature's hideous sightlessness inspired within her. And still the orang fought on, gibbering wildly. Suddenly Lucille felt her feet slipping from under her; felt herself going down toward a rippling musical sound; gently falling through the black

Gently, lazily the canoe floated down, toward the ever-expanding wedge of light. Slowly, very slowly, the fresh air of the jungle met her, the quickening moisture level of the air, the contrast of the son with the unwholesome odor of the underground world from which she had so miraculously escaped. And even as she opened her
